

Next Generation Managed Print Services (MPS)

As our workplace is changing rapidly with the emergence of new technology through mobile, big data and cloud, it has further created challenges for businesses such as enhancing security, corporate governance, optimising and digitising of complicated workflows and printed documentation processes.

Fuji Xerox Next Generation Managed Print Services (MPS) goes beyond print services to provide optimisation of business processes and better integration with IT infrastructure to deliver secure, automated, efficient, mobile and sustainable print environment to our clients.

So, how can Fuji Xerox Next Generation MPS help you in your business?

This newly launched service goes beyond managed print services and focuses on a three-stage approach. The first stage is Assess and Optimise where Fuji Xerox experts' uses best-in-class tools and processes to assess our client's print infrastructure and then providing an optimized print environment that helps our clients reduce their costs and supports their sustainability goals. The second stage is Secure and Integrate, where our goal is to ensure integration with client's IT infrastructure in a secure and compliant way along with enabling printing from mobile devices and providing print server management solutions. The last stage is called Automate and Simplify where we help in improving productivity by automating paper-based processes by developing smart workflows.
